Why Firestone Tires Are Better

One of the outstanding developments by Firestone Engineers in the Gum-Dipping process which impregnates and insulates every fibre of every cord with rubber—adding strength to the cords and reducing internal friction and heat so destructive to life.

The Firestone Dealer in your locality will gladly explain to you the extra value of Gum-Dipping. He is prepared to demonstrate how the cords of the carcass are saturated in rubber which makes motoring more economical with added comfort and safety.

Argument Cannot Be Denied

People Have Right to Say They Belong to Canadian Race

The Montreal Star Press, which has been persistent in claiming that the word "Canadian," as applied to people identified with the country through long years, should be officially recognized, puts the matter to rest when it says that when the census taker asks a Canadian whose ancestors have been in Canada for 100 or 200 years to what race he belongs, the individual should have the right to say that he belongs to the Canadian race. If the enumerator of Ottawa wishes to figure out just what racial strains may mingle in the individual he can get as much information as possible along these lines by asking the individual a question for themselves. This is an argument which cannot be denied.

In England there are people whose original stock came over from Holland with William of Orange, such as the De Witts and the Koppels, represented today by the Duke of Portland and the Earl of Albemarle. They are English and so rightly regard themselves, but, were the system of the Canadian census in vogue in Great Britain, they would be put down as Dutch. Another case of the ridiculous. If, again, the census system as used in Canada were applied to the Royal Family they would not be English but would have to go down as Ger-

There can be no doubt that the word "Canadian" has to be recognized as identified with Canada. There is such a thing as Canadian stock. To fail to recognize this in the tracing of ancestry is a process of "splitting hairs, and when it comes to tracing ancestry how many will be able to do this unless they carry genealogical trees about with them?

This is only the argument of common sense, which cannot be applied to the case in which the census enumeration is conducted. The country is this recognized the better, or else there will be no meaning to Canada—L'abbé de Meulart.

Built First Steamboat

Century and a Quarter

One hundred and twenty-nine years after his death by his own hand, the U. S. federal and state governments formally honored John Fitch, inventor of the steamboat.

Governor W. J. Fields, in an address at the unveiling of a monument at Bardonia, Kentucky, erected by the war department, said that with the recognition accorded the inventor, this seemed to be done.

"That is," he said, "to see that history is corrected and that textbooks be made to teach that Fitch, rather than Fulton, be credited with a wonderful invention, which has done more than any other to move civilization forward and bring all parts of the globe into actual personal, financial and commercial contact."

Robert Fulton himself recognized Fitch as the inventor of the steamboat, and other data which were used to establish the claim of Fitch. Fitch, a native of East Windsor, Conn., went to Hardtown as a boy. He worked there until he joined the revolutionary forces at Valley Forge. After the war, his third attempt to build a steamship was a success, and on August 22, 1787, a vessel 45 feet long, 12 feet wide, and containing six guns with a 12-inch cylinder moved up the Delaware river under its own power.
